"This amazing technology is at the heart of the new control system in FIFA 22 and our new AI, which will be used in all areas of the game," said Alex McMullen, Creative Director at EA Sports. "We're making big strides to bring our players closer to their real-life counterparts, and I believe our fans will see the difference this technology makes right away." "We are using the control settings to create a very natural and responsive experience for both play and passing, while also adding a much more physical feeling to the overall gameplay," said Rui Vitor Santos, Creative Director, FIFA. "Now, more than ever, we want to deliver the perfect player experience, and in the context of this journey the HyperMotion Technology is the key to unlocking a level of fine-tuned control and responsiveness that is unmatched in any other football simulation." "At a time when the lines between game and reality are blurred, we're proud to partner with FIFA on its most innovative technology to date," said Ken Jennings, VP of PlayStation Content Marketing. "PS4 players can experience the incredible depth and responsiveness of the new gameplay mechanics in FIFA 22." Experience the New FIFA Control System: FIFA 22 introduces a range of new control features and adjustments to optimize player control, including the Control Stick. The Control Stick is an analog stick-like device that replaces the Select and Start buttons. On the L1/R1 triggers, you can customize your Controls settings to your preference to allow for a more natural and controlled feel while passing and shooting in the air. The Right Stick responds to the natural actions of your players, so that you control the ball in the way that your player does on the pitch. The Stick has been moved from the center of the touchscreen to the right edge of the controller. This new control system is the most responsive and natural-feeling FIFA experience to date. FIFA 18, which featured a precision-controlled control system, was the first FIFA to include a Precision and Mastery system, allowing you to adjust the settings of the Controls or stick to your personal preferences. This new control system allows you to use the stick in the way that you're used to in other games. FIFA 22 introduces an entire new AI system, which includes new AI
