Punto ECU to try to help his client get a better deal than the deal he had signed. He and Russell talked the Commission head, Karl Palandin, into letting them have half of the crewmembers who'd survived the horrific waters of the Indian Ocean. Despite the fact that this would result in a lower rate of return, Bonhomme willingly took the deal, knowing that the loss of the Indonesian crewmen was a risk worth taking in order to save his client, who was still weak and disoriented from his experience in the Indian Ocean. When Karl Palandin told Bonhomme that he'd approved the deal, Bonhomme felt that he had been punished severely by the international court and by the American government. When he asked Gullotta to be his lawyer for the hearing, he explained that there'd been a conspiracy on
